

Student Course and Instructor Evaluation

Instructor: David Gurzick
 Course: ITMG 388 – Management Information Systems

Semester: Spring 2007

College-wide course evaluations are used as evidence of teaching effectiveness during faculty review for reappointment, promotion, and tenure. These, in conjunction with any additional items, are also vital to maintaining and improving courses and instruction.

Course evaluations are to be completed individually by each student in the absence of the instructor. A student will collect and deliver the evaluations to the designated individual. Please give each question careful thought, keeping in mind the obligation to make independent judgments, in conformity with the provisions of the Honor Code. Thank you.

Using the following scale, please CIRCLE the desired rating to the right of each statement.
