

Currentsē Series (work in progress)

Over 200 sheets of marbled paper made from pigment collected from the Australian landscape. The paper is cut to the size of local currency with GPS coordinates documenting the location where the pigments came from. Workshop performances allowed Australians to make their own 'currency' mined from their own landscape.

(65 x 131 mm each)